Takapūwāhia marae

Takapūwāhia marae sits on the shores of Porirua Harbour. It falls beneath the mana of Ngāti Toa Rangatira iwi.

The wharenui, Toa Rangatira, was opened in 1982, replacing the previous wharenui, which had stood since 1901. The wharekai is called Parehounuku. The marae connects ancestrally to the waka Tainui, the maunga Whitireia, and the moana Raukawa.

Dress code for the Pōwhiri

For those who are male gender: Long trousers, nicer than jeans and no shorts. A shirt with a collar, and a tie is acceptable but not essential. A jacket or something similar that fits the formality of the occasion.

For those who are female gender: A skirt or dress of at least knee length, or a shawl or similar wrapped around your waist over your trousers to simulate a skirt. A shirt or blouse. If it doesn't have a collar, then wearing something at the neck will help achieve the modesty we're aiming for. A jacket, wrap, shawl, or something similar, that fits the formality of the occasion.

For those of non-binary gender: Formal, modest clothing that aligns with your gender expression.

Dress for during the hui

Tidy modest casual, the skirts and shorts restrictions listed above are relaxed.

Marae Etiquette

Pōwhiri - Kawa: Tāutuutu (alternating speakers between tangata whenua and manuhiri)

- Please ensure you wait outside the waharoa (entry to the marae grounds).
- Arrive early. It is considered impolite to walk onto a marae once a pōwhiri is underway. If you arrive late, wait at the front until the formalities have been completed and someone will come out to collect you.
- Please bring a koha which will be collected and presented on our groups' (manuhiri) behalf to the tangata whenua (hosts) during the pōwhiri. This can be in the range of $5 - $20 or whatever you feel comfortable contributing.
- Ensure cell phones are switched off throughout the pōwhiri
- You will enter onto the marae as a group, with wāhine (women) at the front, and tāne (men) behind.
- You must remove your shoes before entering the wharenui. While in the wharenui you must not eat, drink or smoke.

- Once inside, tāne will sit in the front rows, with wāhine sitting behind.
- Please ensure you learn these waiata which will be sung by our group, after each of the speakers from our side.
